Title: Short Journal

Author: Filberto

I hope someone finds this... Vincent has lost now two men, and we now brave this dungeon. While walking here, he bragged to me about how my science was no match for magic these days, and soon he will show me his secret hideout where the most complex magical doorway in all the land is,
and only the correct word can grant him access. I laugh at him, as those are not so complex, but he claims the word is eight syllables! Indeed, most can not handle such a complex word.

I hope he doesn't survive his futile search for the Tuning fork to show me this place.
